What is included in the tuition fee

Charterhouse Almaty offers an educational model in which all core academic and developmental services are included in the tuition fee.

Each pupil benefits from a full and enriching school day that combines academic achievement with a broad range of co-curricular opportunities, supported by a comprehensive system of pastoral care and wellbeing provision.

- Breakfast, lunch and snacks throughout the school day.
- A daily co-curricular programme for all pupils, fully integrated into the timetable and delivered by Charterhouse staff.
- A comprehensive wellbeing programme, including guidance, support and pastoral care for pupils' personal, social and emotional development.
- Textbooks, exercise books, stationery and access to digital learning resources (excluding GCSE and Sixth Form textbooks).
- English as an Additional Language (EAL) provision.
- Medical care, safeguarding and pupil protection services.

Additional Information

Certain activities and services, including individual music lessons, school trips within Kazakhstan and abroad, and fees charged by external examination boards, are payable separately. The School will notify families of any such additional costs in advance.

A Unique Educational Offering

Charterhouse Almaty provides families with an exceptional educational experience founded on the principles of holistic child development.

The extended school day ensures that every pupil participates in a rich and meaningful co-curricular programme. This model supports pupils' academic, social and personal development, creating a balanced and purposeful daily routine.
